

Entertainer Steve Milo Really Puts on a Show

by Kate Clabough

Ray Charles and Tony Bennett. He can play the keyboard with one hand, a piano with the other and sing simultaneously with flawless precision.

Later that night, Mrs. Traa invited him back to her condo on the beach. It was there he met Sue, the daughter of his hostess. He knew she was the one for him and the couple soon married.

Twenty-five years ago, Milo had a life changing experience. He was entertaining in an exclusive Naples, Florida, Country Club. A Mrs. Traa was hosting a golf luncheon for 300 women. She asked the entertainer if he would play the 1920s song "Doodle Doo Doo" in honor of her recently deceased husband. Milo found the music and the woman had tears in his eyes as he sang these words:

Please play for me/
That sweet melody/
Called Doodle Doo Doo/
Doodle Doo Doo/
I like the rest/
But what I like best/
Is Doodle Doo Doo/
Doodle Doo Doo/

In 2000, Milo experienced yet another life-altering event. This time, it was bad luck instead of good. While doing repairs on his roof, the entertainer fell from the ladder. He broke his back in two places and his right leg had to be fused into a bent position.

Then in 2004, nature added insult to injury when Hurricane Charlie blew through the Milo's one-bedroom apartment. The couple lost nearly everything and once again had to start over.

But despite these setbacks and the reality of chronic pain, Milo is back in action and ready to perform. He is available for private parties and events, restaurants,
